AEROADVANTAGE PARTS

SUSTAIN OPERATIONAL READINESS WITH QUALITY SPARES

Part quality and availability can be the difference between productive uptime and costly downtime. As a vertically integrated LM2500 and LM6000 service provider, operator, and EPC supplier, PROENERGY leverages decades of expertise and unrivaled supply-chain power to create a responsive, cost-efficient parts ecosystem that meets any challenge.

As plant operators and owners, we understand that when you're faced with an issue, the last thing you need is a long lead time. We support your routine scheduled and unscheduled maintenance from our permanently stocked 250,000-ft² (23,226-m²) Sedalia warehouse and Houston satellite center. From fuel-nozzle gaskets and valves to complete hot sections and engine leases, you can trust us to deliver critical spares, consumables, and custom-engineered solutions on time and on budget.
